I’ve peer-reviewed both documents, and they look solid. Nothing to add to these from my end.

Okay, attached are the other two documents outlining AI Training and AI Policies (again, thanks Mike!).

@Caleb Beaver, please give these a look!

Mike did a great job here. The only thing I added was a reference to Copilot since it's also part of our AI assessments. Otherwise, everything looks perfect.

CAUTION: External Sender.

This is great, thanks all.

I am going to brief this in to design this morning so we start to build the framework.

We can then add any changes from Caleb and also Grillo's training and policy content as it arrives with me.

Keep me in the loop and send stuff my way as and when you're ready.

Adding Caleb for transparency as his team will be delivering this and I want to ensure he is aligned on the content/ assessment scope.

Attached is the information regarding the content and some light value positioning for our AI Security & Governance Assessment (thanks to @Mike Diaz for putting this together).Based on Nate's email we should also have some content included for AI Policy and AI training. We can probably turn that around relatively quickly, but I will provide an exact ETA tomorrow.

Thanks, Nate. Ill do my best to get something together this evening. I worked with Mike this afternoon on the scope of the offering but am going to add a bit about the benefits of doing it and risks of not. Once we get that doc circulated, we (especially @Nathan Ford) can confirm it looks right and move quickly.

Hey Kate so sorry my day got away from me. I think Grillo would be better served to give you actual details for the PDF but the key points for me are below. I think Mike Diaz might have put this together already? Mike can you comment here? Kate runs our marketing and is putting together an AI PDF that we desperately need. I think we can keep this fairly high level. Kate happy to setup a call if that would be helpful but Mike/Grillo would need to be involved. Thanks!

Hey Nate

We haven't started on this, although it won't take us long.

Nick put the stoppers on it as he wanted to prioritise other things and Eric had asked me to deal with Nick 🙈

Can you send me in Word (or point me in the right direction) of what you actually need (neither Eric or Nick were clear on what the 'AI offering' was as I didn't have enough time with them to hear the details.

Alternatively I can talk to you at 6pmGMT tomorrow evening?

Sorry – this sounds like a lots of cooks and not a very successful outcome yet! We will get there quickly 😊

Hey Kate. I hope you are doing well. See my email with Eric below. He said you were working on our AI PDF. Could you give me an ETA on this? This is easily the most demanded product offering right now. Thank you!

Hey Eric. Do you think we could work with Kate to put together a PDF on our new AI offering? I am getting pounded for this. JP Morgan and AirGC both told me this morning they have clients in need of this and asked me to send them something on it. The only thing I have are same reports that don't show very well. I think there is a big market to capitalize on currently before everyone catches up – Salus, Optima, Gotham, Aponix, and MSP's.
